PRINCIPAL SECRETARY, STATE DEPARTMENT FOR INDUSTRY, MINISTRY OF INVESTMENTS, TRADE AND INDUSTRY

DR. JUMA MUKHWANA PHD, HSC,
Principal Secretary, State Department for Industry, Ministry of Investments, Trade and Industry

I wish to begin with thanking Mount Kenya University (MKU) for giving me this opportunity to serve as the Chief Guest during the University's 24th Graduation Ceremony.

Today, we celebrate not only graduands' academic accomplishments but also the journey of growth, perseverance, and discovery that has brought them to this joyous moment. I appreciate MKU for choosing a very progressive theme for this Graduation Ceremony, which is, "The Role of Higher Education in Driving Small-Scale Industry for Socio-Economic Equity through Linkages".

As you are aware Small Scale Industries play a critical role in our economic development creating employment for 14.1 million persons representing at least 93% of our national workforce. The sector contributes 24% to the GDP.

SMEs have significantly contributed to innovation and skill development, especially among young people. By so doing, it has enabled them to realise their full potential resulting in increased productivity of the young people.

One of the key functions of the State Department for Industry is to create linkages between Government, Academia, and Industry where synergies are built in order to bring out the best innovations for commercialization. This collaboration was manifested during the Covid-19 pandemic period; during which many innovations were developed and deployed into the market.

My Department has continued promoting partnerships between SMEs, Academia, and the private Sector in skill development, promoting development of new technologies, and creating policies that encourage research and innovation in the country. I commend MKU's successful effort in ensuring access to quality higher education across the country, in the region, and worldwide through face-to-face and online modes of study. MKU's support to the students and researchers has led to the development of research-oriented projects that have continued to transform lives. This support has led to development of several innovations that have been internationally acknowledged and awarded; and which have been instrumental in supporting the establishment of small-scale industrial start-ups.

Small-scale industries, often the backbone of many economies, play a vital role in generating employment, driving innovation, and contributing significantly to local value addition and employment creation. This is where the synergy between higher education and small-scale industries becomes pivotal. Collaborative efforts, such as research partnerships, technology transfer, mentorship programs, and internships, can facilitate the exchange of knowledge, expertise, and resources. Such linkages empower small-scale industries with the latest advancements in technology, managerial skills, and market insights, thus enhancing their productivity and competitiveness.

I congratulate the University Management, researchers, and innovators on these sterling achievements. The symbiotic relationship between higher education and small-scale industries is indispensable for driving socio-economic equity; especially here in Africa.

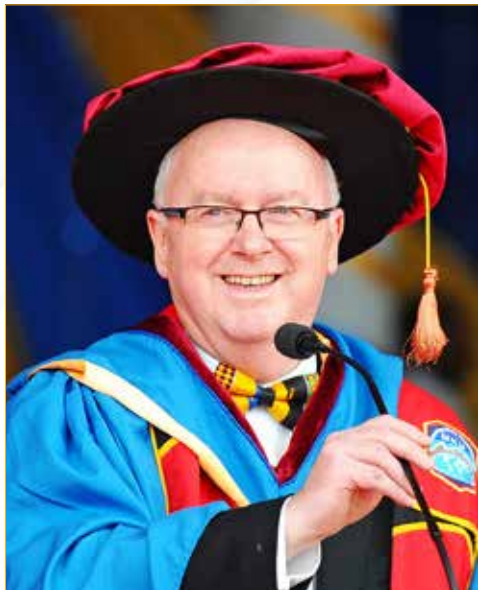

To those graduating today, remember that, as you step out into the world beyond the university walls, carry with you the values instilled in yourselves by this Great Institution. Let integrity, perseverance, and empathy be your guiding principles.

I wish to reiterate the Government of Kenya's commitment to supporting education, research, innovation, infrastructural growth, and employment creation for socio-economic equality.

I wish you all graduands the best in your lives as you strive to join other stakeholders in serving humanity with diligence since "Service to People is Service to God".

Thank you.

Message From

THE VICE-CHANCELLOR

PROF. DEOGRATIUS JAGANYI,
PhD, MSc, DIC, MRSC
Vice-Chancellor, MKU

I welcome you all to the 24th Graduation ceremony of Mount Kenya University (MKU). I congratulate all 5,763 graduands on completing their various studies successfully.

Students Matters

MKU students continue to excel in co-curricular activities as demonstrated by the active participation in various activities. The students participated in the Kenya National Music Festival and they performed up to the finals. The University sports teams participated and competed in the Kenya Universities Sports Association leagues. The University Rugby Team competed in the Kenya Rugby Union 7s League and athletics players participated at the Kenya Athletics National Championship. To diversify students sporting activities, the University has introduced e-sports.

To offer differently-abled students opportunities to grow their talents as well as participate in the larger community, visually-impaired students participated in charity event of climbing Mt. Longonot. Other students differently-abled also participated in UHAI Festivals.

The University Senate approved the review of the existing examination irregularities and their penalties. This review was informed by the need to have a reformative approach in dealing with academic irregularities and ensure that the various examinations-related penalties improve the academic character of the students and their future as responsible citizens as the university safeguard the academic integrity of the examination process.

Academic Programmes

The University Senate has supported three new programmes; Master of Pharmacy in Cosmetic Technology, Master of Pharmacy in Industrial Pharmacy and Master of Science in Industrial Pharmacognosy and Complementary Medicine. A new roadmap for postgraduate training has been implemented that will guarantee timely completion of postgraduate students. The Postgraduate Centre in Nairobi Campus has been enhanced to support the postgraduate students.

Research and Innovation

MKU has continued to implement her strategy on research, innovation and community engagement. The University held its inaugural Research, Innovation & Digital Agri Expo 2023 event in November this year. The expo endeavored to share research and innovation outputs with communities and industry partners. Additionally, MKU hosted a four-day research agenda workshop under the auspices of "Award of Applied Research and Teaching for Sustainable Development in Africa in November, 2023. The workshop was jointly funded by DAAD and MKU.

The University is strengthening the growing of more medicinal plants in its botanic garden. This is a venture leveraging on partnership with environmental champions in growing more trees and harnessing them for innovative and research-led products while supporting the national agenda of growing 15 million trees by 2032.

Staff Welfare

A healthy workforce is key to staff performance. The University has strengthened the Staff Fitness Centre and various staff wellness initiatives. The university has also enhanced staff contractual period, medical cover and management of staff provident fund.

Information and Communication Technology

The University has continued to upgrade the E-learning platform and the student management information system to support real-time integration with Microsoft Teams to enhance blended learning. This improves students' and teachers' experience on the digital platforms, content delivery and quality of teaching.

Institutional Compliance

Significant achievements have been made in realigning quality assurance activities in the Campuses and ODeL centres in the last two semesters that have aimed at enhancing delivery of services to all the customers in pursuit of institutional compliance.

THANK YOU.

GREAT MILESTONES ACHIEVED IN 2023 TOWARDS ATTAINING VISION 2030

The College of Graduate Studies prides itself for having achieved great milestones in 2023. With the establishment of the Graduate Studies Centre of Excellence (GSCoE), in Nairobi Campus (Union Towers), postgraduate students will now be able to get better student services. In line with the university philosophy of harnessing knowledge in applied Sciences and Technology for the service of humanity. Students are now able to complete their studies on time as is evidenced by the continued increase in throughput of postgraduate graduands in 2023. The pillars of this new centre of excellence are premised on the need to ensure postgraduate students do not exceed the 2 year period (4 semesters) for masters and 3 years for doctoral students. To achieve this, the programmes are structured to adhere to semester-specific milestones that allow easy monitoring of students' academic progression. The GSCoE has infrastructure that support supervisors-student consultations, individual study, seminars, lectures, a library, computer room etc.

To support these initiatives, in 2024, the college is planning to roll out service-learning with industry partners to allow postgraduate students solve industry challenges while using the same research to fulfil their research component. MKU is currently working with Kenya Association of Manufacturers (Central Chapter Liaison) to sensitize industries on the concept. This will therefore be able to reduce the challenge of postgraduate students identifying research problems and promote real-life research problems being worked at. Service-Learning is pedagogical strategy adopted from the Africa Centre for Career Enhancement and Skill Support (2020-2024).

The college held its inaugural Research, Innovation & Digital Agri Expo 2023 (RIDAE_2023). The research and innovation outputs were shared with communities and industry partners. In living up to the SDG 12 and SDG 17, we strive to promote Responsible consumption, production and partnership for goals. This is in line with the University Research Focus, which acknowledges the role of Science, Technology and Innovation (STI) in promoting research as a measure in solving societal and economic challenges for improved livelihoods and health and promote quality training among our postgraduate students. Through industry and community linkages, we aim to create a nexus between academia and industry to support practical-oriented learning. This is an event that attracted more than 20 industry exhibitors and we hope that the second RIDAE_2024 will even be a larger synergetic event. The top 3 student innovations were awarded cash awards to enable them improve on their innovation in preparation for commercialization phase. The award is meant to support the innovators meet the registration requirement with KIPi and support their mentorship at the MKU Innovation and Incubation Hub for 6 months. The best 3 poster presentations and the best 3 exhibition booths were also awarded. Most of the research posters show-cased are a result of multimillion research grants that the university won both individually and as consortium, grants to the tune of more than KES. 80,000,000

The university is currently market-testing its pioneer “WEMA” black soap product. This is a product that is envisioned to promote the use of locally available resources while creating opportunities for researchers to continuously innovate on the diverse products made from indigenous and medicinal plants. To achieve this, the university is strengthening the growing of more herbal-based trees in its botanic garden at Happy Valley in Thika. This is a venture that is currently leveraging partnership with environmental champions in growing more trees and harnessing them for innovative and researched products.

As a college, we believe that collaboration and partnerships can drive research among Higher Education Institutions in Africa and beyond. This is a key strategy in promoting cross-national and continental joint activities, so that resources can be pooled to support research initiatives. In promoting solutions to community challenges, the university is currently working with Partners for Care (PFC) to carry out research on waterborne disease prevalence in Kenya so as to support PFC’s initiative of distributing Water-Safe containers to primary and secondary schools in Kenya.

As we usher in 2024, we are not oblivious of the mandate that research plays in ensuring that higher education institutions become relevant by being solution creators to socio-economic and political challenges. Through University Management Support, we have put in place strategies that assure our students a one-stop shop for their postgraduate journey, while ensuring increased staff participation in research so as to drive output and community support a notch higher.

AFRICAN UNIVERSITIES URGED TO ENHANCE RESEARCH ON CLIMATE CHANGE TO TACKLE THE GLOBAL CHALLENGE

African universities have been challenged to take a front role in research on climate change and find solutions to resultant consequences.

Namibia Vice President H.E Nangolo Mbumba said it is time the continent relied on its resources in matters of scientific research and more so human resource. He spoke during the signing of a memorandum of understanding between the International University of Management, Namibia (IUM) and Mount Kenya University (MKU) in Thika, Kiambu County, meant to boost medical research between the two institutions.

He said institutions of higher learning in Africa must collaborate in research and other areas of science to solve the problems facing their communities.

“Now that we have passed the Nairobi Declaration on climate change, we must address the problems facing us in our respective countries on the continent and the world and more so the emission of gases that are contributing to global warming,” said the VP.

Mount Kenya University Vice-Chancellor Prof. Deogratius Jaganyi said climate change interventions need a serious commitment because of their adverse and disruptive effects on human ecosystems, human operations and subsistence, as well as human wellness and overall lifestyles.

“We need not belabour the very well-known realities regarding Climate Change and the greenhouse effects in our lives today. Climate change and the greenhouse effects are attributed directly and indirectly to human activity,” he said.

Prof Jaganyi noted that calls for multi-faceted strategies and the use of law, science, technology and innovation in sustainable interventions are an obligation to all stakeholders.

“All governments and their agencies across the world, NGOs, institutions of higher learning, business communities, professional bodies, and all other stakeholders working together are called upon to contribute individually and collectively towards this glaring danger of our current times,” he said.

The VC observed that research on “greenhouse” effects and climate change mitigation is a vital input by universities and research organizations for bridging the glaring national policy gaps. These include areas of environmental education, consumer behaviour, rewarding and sanction systems, as well as in legislation and government or organizational support in climate change mitigation. He also averred that the climate change challenge comes with numerous opportunities for innovative and creative entrepreneurs. “These include coming up with innovative solutions for clean and green energy, tree planting, restoration of water-towers, conservation, and Cloud Seeding Technology,” he said.

The MoU signed by Prof Deogratius Jaganyi and his IUM counterpart Prof Peter Nyarango, Researcher and Coordinator School of Medicine, Namibia covers various areas of staff and student exchange in medical courses as well as shared online teaching and learning programmes.

It also involves joint research and publications, community engagement and primary health care, telemedicine, sharing of online resource materials, joint grant-writing and extra-mural rotations.

Medical School Exchange Program

“Empowered by knowledge, inspired by compassion, I leave a trail of healing in every digital interaction.”

Mount Kenya University Medical School was honoured to host a distinguished cohort of 14 international medical exchange students from the 1st to the 31st of August 2023. Representing the diversity of Europe, these young minds hailed from Poland (6 students), Italy (4 students), France (3 students), and Spain (1 student).

Mount Kenya University received the budding doctors with warm Kenyan hospitality. The exchange program was not only an academic experience but also a cultural immersion. They had the golden opportunity to engage with MKU founder, Prof. Simon Gicharu, Vice-Chancellor, Prof. Deogratius Jaganyi, and other staff and students in different events such as the 23rd Graduation ceremony, and the Mount Kenya University Medical Students Association (MKUMSA) finalists dinner that served as a dual ceremony highlighting their welcome, and celebrating the medical school graduates.

During the exchange programme, the students were placed into different clinical rotations with our local medical students where our consultant lecturers supervised them. Beyond medical techniques and knowledge, they also experienced the heart and soul of Kenyan medical ethos.

All work and no play makes Jack a dull boy. Besides academics, the exchange students got a chance to go out in a planned social programme to see the beautiful sceneries of Kenya, and to experience Kenya at its finest. From the expansive savannahs of Tsavo to our picturesque coastlines, they tasted the vibrant pulse of our land and its people.

Mount Kenya University Medical School, through such initiatives and support from all fraternities, strives to foster global collaborations, ensuring a brighter, more interconnected future for the medical profession.

MKU E-SPORTS STARS SHINE AT THE INAUGURAL RWANDAN INTERNATIONAL TOURNAMENT

MKU students Sharon Waithera and Michael Ngwai reinforced their reputation as East Africa's brightest stars in e-sports by winning the inaugural international tournament in Kigali, Rwanda.

The tournament, held in September 2023, coincided with the launch of the e-sports facility at Mount Kigali University. The winners received cash awards and game controllers from MKU chairman Prof. Simon Gicharu.

E-Sports (short for Electronic Sports) are multi-player video games that have taken the world by storm. They are the digital versions of sports and are not only a form of recreation but a source of income for elite players.

"We have embraced digitization in the various curricula and co-curricular activities at the university," said Prof. Gicharu. "E-sports place our students head and shoulders above their contemporaries."

MKU has a vibrant e-sports team, which is under the tutelage of Santiago e-hub Gamers. In August 2023, the team also participated in the Gamers8 Sports Festival in Riyadh, Saudi Arabia.

The sports have grown in popularity among MKU students due to the minimal physical barriers to participation. Sharon, a first-year BSc in Nursing student says the games are not physically exerting, thus the appeal.

Prof. Simon Gicharu, Chairman Board of Directors demonstrates e-sporting during official launch of e-sports at Mount Kigali University, Rwanda.

"More and more female students are now signing up," she says. She has mastered the EAFC24 (Formerly FIFA) game, and her dexterity shows from the moment her fingers rest on the game controllers.

On his part, Michael, a third-year Bachelor of Commerce student says success calls for hard work and discipline. A master of Football games, particularly FC24, he says his goal is to be a role model for aspiring e-Sports enthusiasts at MKU and beyond.

Secret to success? "Prioritize your time, create a schedule, and stay organized. Education is an important tool!" says Sharon.

A WALK WITH MKU BEARS FRUITS

An opportunity to write a story opens doors for my postgraduate studies at a leading private university.

By George Gichuki

In 2014, I got a rare opportunity to write about MKU's virtual campus in Biashara Leo (BL) magazine. From the word go, I could tell this was a big story. The fast growth of Information communication technology (ICT) was disrupting many businesses globally. Kenya was not an exception.

Unlike most universities which were still relying on the traditional classroom model, MKU had started adopting virtual learning in a big way. This move helped place MKU in the path of growth. Early entrants in the market normally have many advantages that help them set high standards.

Candid

I gathered to my amazement during the interview that virtual students would be able to learn and sit exams at the comfort of their homes or workplaces. It was unheard of, then. This was a cost-effective way of learning; especially for students in full-time employment or foreigners. I also recorded testimonials from students who had enrolled for the new programme. 'Mount Kenya University Virtual Campus Revolution' was the cover story of the September 2014 issue of BL magazine. Our readers were happy.

Powerful idea

Victor Hugo's words come to mind: 'An invasion of an army can be resisted, but not an idea whose time has come.' Indeed, the timing of the launch of virtual learning by MKU was perfect. In 2020, Covid-19 disrupted the traditional mode of learning. Classes shifted online. Fortunately, MKU was not caught flat-footed by this disruption.

MKU's virtual campus has continued to grow in leaps and bounds. This success gives credence to the entrepreneurial prowess of MKU's founder, Professor Simon Gicharu who in 2015 was named the Eastern African Ernest and Young entrepreneur of year.

MKU was started with a seed capital of only Kshs. 20,000 in 1996 as a computer training facility. In 2003, the facility's growth led to the establishment of Thika Institute of Technology (TIT). In 2008, TIT gave birth to MKU , a world class university.

Memorable

As I penned MKU's virtual varsity story in 2014, little did I know that one day I would become its beneficiary. That moment came in 2021. I felt a deep urge to hone my professional skills in view of the changing trends in the media industry. Given my busy schedule as an entrepreneur, I needed to enroll in an institution with a flexible learning programme for a master of arts degree in journalism and media studies. MKU was my obvious choice. It was no brainer.

My two year study in the university has enabled me to sharpen my skills in communication. In addition, most of my classmates have become my friends. This has expanded my professional network. I will forever be grateful to the university's management, faculty and my supervisor for assisting me to achieve my dream.

Most importantly, as a team leader of a media house in the small and medium enterprises (SMEs) category, the skills gained will enable me to engage my clients better, as I endeavour to scale the business to higher levels. By coincidence, this vision is in line with the 2024 graduation theme: ' The role of higher education in driving small scale industry for socio-economic equity through linkages.'

Would I recommend this programme to my colleagues in the media industry? That is a definite yes!

BEN KANINA, - PHD/42883/2016

No doubt Mount Kenya University, addressing me as PhD graduand is the happiest information of my life. Yet it comes with many costs, for example, addiction to knowledge and social, mental economic ones. Efficient e-communication and online seminars with directorate of graduate studies during covid-19, helped to offset costs and challenges on my way. Going forward, I would plan to measure quantitatively, pre-harvest food loss experienced by poor small scale farmers. For those students pursuing graduate programmes, conceptualizing and structuring the topic and objectives, are pertinent. Immersion into relevant and appropriate literature also helps.

NAMANDE MUGERWA SERAH - PHDED/2018/40054

Oh how smoothened, the journey! Seemingly hard to accomplish, desirable, indispensable, “THE PHILOSOPHY OF EDUCATION DEGREE”! With the unceasing support, by professionally and socially able Professors and Doctors, the University management, the faculty of Education staff and supervisors, Namande Mugerwa Sarah from Uganda, achieved her intended objectives: added new knowledge on early childhood moral learning; the cultural-based curriculum, pedagogy, social system, and teachers’ demographic characteristics. Even at Post Doc, Mount Kenya University is the choice. Are you in process? Stick to the goal, be zealous, with the supportive Professors and Doctors in place, you must achieve. If others can, you can.

HABANE FAYO GALGALO - PHD /49436/2016

Pursuing a PhD degree is not a walk in the park, it requires dedication, resilience and utmost patience. In my case am driven by natural desire to achieve an academic excellence from my primary level, it was a worthy journey with multiple challenges but finally thanks to almighty God the end justifies the means. The experience I got from MKU University was a real practical academic life with the unwavering support of the easily accessible supervisors and postgraduate academic staffs made me to meet my expectations. The skills and knowledge I earned from MKU PhD program definitely will shape my future research undertaking beyond the horizon both in Kenya and globally. Above all I am up to the task to mentor those in the process in the realization of their academic journey.

God bless MKU University fraternity.

Attaining the highest level of education (PhD) is no mean fete. The long journey is lonely and sometimes very scaring. MOUNT KIGALI UNIVERSITY, IMBUTO FOUNDATION TO BUILD TWO ECD CLASSES IN KICUKIRO

Imbuto Foundation has reaffirmed its commitment to an ongoing partnership with Mount Kigali University. The new phase of the partnership is set to kick off with a plan by the university to build two ECD (early childhood development) classrooms in Kicukiro.

The foundation's pledge comes following the institution's name change from Mount Kenya University Rwanda in April.

This alliance seeks to support exceptional yet underprivileged Rwandan students to access educational opportunities that could transform their lives.

Mount Kigali University, now a fully autonomous higher education institution operating throughout Rwanda, has taken the baton from its predecessor, Mount Kenya University Rwanda. This development signifies a new era of collaborative educational empowerment efforts within the country.

A letter that the University sent to Imbuto Foundation in June this year, states: "Following the MoU signed between the two organisations and renewed early this year, Mount Kigali University pledges a donation of USD. 175,000 to the Imbuto Foundation during the renewal of the partnership to educate the girl-child."

It also states that the University is proud to contribute Rwf150 million towards the construction and operation of the One Childhood Development and Family Community-Based Centre, which will be located in Kicukiro District. "By working together, we can make a significant difference in the lives of Rwandans, by empowering them to realise their full potential and make positive contributions to their communities," it also adds.

According to the Ag. Vice-Chancellor, Dr. Martin Kimemia, the two organizations are laying the groundwork to build two public ECD classes in Kicukiro District to benefit the local community. This follows the transfer of the foundation's memorandum of understanding (MoU) with Mount Kenya University Rwanda (MKUR) to Mount Kigali University.

"We are working on the modalities of making this happen," Dr. Martin Kimemia, said.

Communication between the university and the foundation shows that the two partners in education plan to forge ahead with the initiative to build the ECD classes.

"Imbuto Foundation has laid out the vision which we embrace and look forward to achieving together," said Dr. Kimemia.

"For any further support to go ahead with the process, Jean de Dieu Kayiranga, the Ag. Divisional Manager in charge of the Education Division, will facilitate you," notes a statement from Imbuto Foundation to the university.

The foundation's five-year partnership with MKU has borne fruit. Several scholars trained at MKU courtesy of the foundation have graduated.

Mount Kenya University (MKU) Founder, Prof. Simon Gicharu, congratulates Noella Dushakimana, one of the alumni of former Mount Kenya University Rwanda (MKUR) and recipient of scholarships provided through the Imbuto Foundation. FULL AUTONOMY, INSTRUMENTS OF POWER

Mount Kigali University, a scion of Mount Kenya University, has received the instruments of power in Rwanda.

The university was previously a campus of Mount Kenya University, established in 2010. On April 20 this year, after an elaborate process that lasted more than five years, it was granted full accreditation to operate as Mount Kigali University.

The university is based in Gatenga sector in Kigali. The instruments of power namely the mace, seal, internal University statutes, and the communique from the Government of Rwanda were handed over by the Board of Trustee chairman Prof. Simon Gicharu, who is also the founder of the two universities.

The mace, which mostly leads the Chancellor's Procession during graduation ceremonies, is a visual representation of Mount Kigali University's commitment to upholding academic integrity, tradition and pursuit of knowledge. The seal is the official signature of the university. It is through the seal that official documents, degrees, diplomas, and certificates are imbued with the weight of the university's authority. The statutes are the foundation upon which Mount Kigali University will be governed.

"This is a culmination of tireless efforts by the Board, Council, University Management, and support from our students, their

Dr. Mugisha said: "This is the first time that an institution has started as a campus and graduated into a full-fledged university in Rwanda. Many have tried and failed."

The entry of Mount Kenya University into Rwanda was enabled by Annexure 12 of the East African Community Common Market Protocol. The Protocol allowed mutual recognition of academic qualifications.

Mount Kigali University has continued with this momentum to embrace internationalization of education.

Mount Kigali University is now a member of the Inter-University Council of East Africa. The internationalization drive has also seen the university recruit international faculty, students, and benchmark against some of the best universities in the world.

Besides top Mount Kigali University administrators, others who attended the event were Imbuto Foundation's Ms. Mireille Musaniwabo, and Kagabo Innocent the Registrar of the National Council of Nurses and Midwives.

Mr. Kagabo described Mount Kigali University as an “indispensable partner in the training of nurses.”

“This remarkable institution has changed the course of our lives,” said Roseanne Muregwa, an alumnus. “We are proud to be beneficiaries of Prof. Gicharu’s vision.”

Mount Kigali University Vice-Chancellor Dr. Martin Kimemia said the institution is determined to shape its own destiny, and to provide a nurturing environment where intellectual curiosity will flourish. This will be backed up by state-of-the-art infrastructure for curricular and co-curricular activities.

In addition, Mount Kigali University will soon open a University Medical Centre where its staff, students, alumni and community will receive medical services.

“We have also invested about 200 million Rwandan Francs (about KSh20million) to buy Dental equipment in preparation to roll out Dentistry courses,” added Prof. Gicharu. During the event, the Vice-Chancellor received an accreditation certificate from International Human Resource

With the autonomy and receipt of instruments of power, students of Mount Kigali University will now be graduating right here in Rwanda.

“I am looking forward to that day,” said Dr. Kimemia. “Our graduands will celebrate their academic milestones in the presence of their parents, guardians, friends and siblings.”

The colourful ceremony was lit up by entertainment by Rwanda Cultural Troupe which performed the famous Intore dance.

MISSION

TO IDENTIFY, NURTURE AND MATURE YOUTHFUL GRADUATE ENTREPRENEURS ACROSS AFRICA

Mount Kenya University's Graduate Enterprise Academy (GEA) was instituted in 2013 as a community outreach platform whose activities are primarily geared towards youth empowerment and edification through entrepreneurial and leadership-oriented training. The impact of GEA has been phenomenal. This owes to two main reasons among others. These are the carefully selected and highly potent training which is blended from amongst relevant and renowned programs derived from across the globe and the fact that it is offered by a team of well-qualified and experienced practitioners and professors.

The GEA program at MKU has gone through progressive changes since inception which have been informed by the community dynamics as well as viability options. So far, two cohorts have been commissioned whose beneficiaries are running their businesses as well as mentoring others across the country. As a business accelerator, GEA embraces the Public – Private Partnerships strategy to ensure a quad – helix model. Exhibitions, face-to-face and digital mentoring, networking and monitoring and evaluations are key hallmarks of the GEA's strategic operations.
