

MKU rolls out equipment for medical school

Kiambu > Mount Kenya University chairman Simon Gicharu and some medical students examine the state-of-the-art medical equipment for scientific, practical training and research at the university's college of health sciences. This is part of a Sh70 million scientific equipment procured by the university.

CORRESPONDENT | NATION

Nyeri > Move to sack workers described as illegal and unconstitutional